WAR WAS PLANNED BY COL. ROOSEVELT TO END COAL STRIKE

He Frankly Admits That When President He Had Arranged to Send U. S. Troops Into Pennsylvania.

NO WORRY ABOUT LAW; HE'D HAVE FOUND A LAW

Roosevelt Says He Just Wanted a Chance to Send Army and Settle Things. Would Have Risked Effort to Impeach Him.

New York, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt, as president, was ready to take measures "equivalent to action in time of war" to end the strike in the anthracite mines in 1902. He was determined to take action, even though an effort should be made later to impeach him for it.

Mr. Roosevelt so testified today in a giving testimony here today before a committee in the suit of Alexander T. Wiles, a lawyer of Birmingham, Ala., against John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for fees he alleges are due him for the part he took in settling the strike.

"In September," said Mr. Roosevelt, "the situation began to grow acute. It was a situation full of menace to the country. I asked permission to appear before the representatives of the operators and of the miners. I told them the attitude of the miners, as well as that of the operators, and the attitude of the operators as unreasonable and offensive."

Intended to Use Army. After telling of his efforts to settle the strike through a committee of arbitration, which Governor Cleveland consented to head, he continued:

"I made up my mind that I would have to take drastic action unless the operators and miners got together. I intended to send in the United States army—only wanted to get it in there, and I'd take care of the situation."

"I told Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, I'd act, and I'd guarantee that the people of the eastern seaboard would have coal and have it right away. I told him that I would help him he could vote to impeach me later if he wished. I asked Quay to arrange to have Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, when I notified the governor, send word to me that he was unable to control the situation, and then I would send in the army."

"I planned to have General Schofield lead the troops with talk, troops and act practically receiver for the mines. I told the general it would be necessary to take action in time of war and that he must pay no heed to any other authority—no heed to a writ from a judge or anything else except my commands. He said he would do it."

Kept His Plan Secret. Colonel Roosevelt said he kept his plan secret, even from the members of his cabinet. The operators, he said, were in the underground until finally a change came and after several days about the membership of the commission one was appointed and the strike ended.

Colonel Roosevelt was constantly sparing with Mr. Wiles, who conducted his own case, when, under cross-examination, Mr. Wiles frequently asked him and he best forward, shaking his finger at the lawyer and scowling at him. He said he had never seen Mr. Wiles before and knew nothing of him. He said the plaintiff took in settling the strike.

"I would not accept your interpretation of the constitution," Colonel Roosevelt retorted. "I proposed that every action I took should be in accordance with the constitution as Abraham Lincoln construed it."

"Would you have settled the strike, law or no law?" he asked the plaintiff.

"I had settled it," Colonel Roosevelt said. "I had found a law."

GOV. HOOPER ARRIVES IN ATLANTA TODAY

Will Make an Inspection of the Convict System of the State.

Governor Ben W. Hooper, of Tennessee, accompanied by several members of the highway commission of that state, will arrive in Atlanta this morning for the purpose of having a conference with the members of the prison commission and later making an investigation of Georgia's plan for working convicts on the highways.

Several counties will be visited and the workings of the Georgia system will be thoroughly gone into. At present the convicts of Tennessee are largely worked in the coal mines of that state and for some time there have been considerable opposition to this plan.

Governor Hooper is undecided as to the best method and for that reason determined to make a first-hand investigation.

Members of the prison commission of Georgia will afford Governor Hooper every opportunity for getting all the information he desires.

HURT IN LAKEWOOD LAKE HE ASKS $600 DAMAGES

Because in diving from a platform at Lakewood he struck his head on a stump hidden in the water, Martin Corbillion, a citizen of Atlanta, is holding the city liable for damages in the recovery of that amount.

Corbillion, through his attorney, presented the claim before the claim of the city of Atlanta yesterday afternoon for the privilege of bathing at Lakewood, and that he assumed that the city had thrown about the proper safety.

Lakewood is leased by the city to a private individual, but Corbillion nevertheless contends that the city is liable for damages as the result of the accident.

JOHN R. COOPER SPEAKS IN RABUN COURTHOUSE

Clayton, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Hon. J. R. Cooper, of Macon, candidate for United States senate to succeed the late Senator Bacon, spoke for about one hour and a half to a large audience in the courthouse in the interest of his candidacy Tuesday at 2 o'clock. He paid his respects to all his opponents except Mr. Hutchens and did not fail to handle them with gloves off. He was given strict attention and at times applauded.

He promised that if he was sent to the United States senate he would do for the interest of the farmers and the poor of the state. He said he was not very large, owing to the fact that Rabun county court had adjourned the day previous.

The man who travels on his cheek ought to have a pretty strong face. You never can tell sometimes the truth; a man really catches the most fish.

MARSHALL SCORES ARTIFICIAL WOMAN

Vice President Tells Agnes Scott Girls That Charm Is Not the Product of Intellectual Attainments.

Vice President Marshall warmly scored the artificial, beauty-craving women of today in a ten minute talk Wednesday morning at the commencement exercises of Agnes Scott college in the college chapel.

"Chain, dear girls," he said, "is not in intellectual attainment. The smartest woman I ever knew affected me like the sound of a rattlesnake on a grass-cut saw. She had no charm, which, after all, is a tremendous, gruesome, the product and the result of a woman's vanity."

The vice president said he remembered his mother as an angular, raw-boned woman of great bulk, who would have never taken a prize at a beauty show, but whose "unattractive" smile had been the greatest thing of all—a woman.

Full of Faith and Wit. The vice president was introduced by Dr. J. H. Gaines, president of the college. Mr. Marshall's talk was full of pathos and wit and held the students in rapt attention throughout his discourse. He spoke of the tendency of universities to exclude the dead languages from their curriculum, declaring that some of them no longer require Latin and Greek for the A. B. degree, and he was afraid that before long we will not know the difference between a B. and a veterinary. He added, however, that he did not desire this tendency in modern education, for in some instances Latin and Greek are not necessary to an education or career.

The vice president said he didn't believe woman to be the equal of man, but the superior. He concluded by asserting that after all life narrows down to two things—faith and friendship.

Senator Hoke Smith was on the program to speak after the vice president but was unable to be present. Other awards were made and Mr. Marshall applauded with the audience as each name was read.

The scholarship awarded to the student most proficient in studies was won by Miss Frances Thatcher, of the freshman class; honorable mention, Miss Jeannette Victor.

Other awards were: Music scholarship in piano, Miss Myrle Biss; music scholarship in voice, Miss Dorothy Brown; scholarship in art, Miss Hattie Smith; Laura Scott medal for highest average in mathematics, Miss Margaret Waldron; honorable mention, Misses Laura Cooper and Lucile Finney.

Certificates awarded. Certificates were awarded to the following: In history, to Miss Gertrude Brenck; in Latin, to Miss Louise McNulty; in music, to Miss Isabelle Norwood and Amelia Sadler; in piano, to Miss Mary G. Bedinger.

Debatable pins were awarded to Misses Emma Jones and Mary Schneider, who won the debate; Misses Sophie Newcomb college, and to Miss Margarette Walk, alternate in the debate.

Degrees were conferred to Misses Mildred Holmes, Kathleen Kennedy, Theodora Cobbs, Mary Pittora, Margarette Wells, Helen Brown, Nell Clark, Sarah Hannell, Ruth Blue, Lettie May Blair, Louise McNulty, Elma McConnell, Linda Miller, Florence Brinkley, Louise Jackson, Annie McLeary, Mary Brown, Martha Rogers.

Ruth Hick, Zella McArthur, Elsie Roberts, Bertha Adams, Annie Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Adams took the train at the Midtown hotel at 1 o'clock and were then escorted to the Terminal station, leaving for Washington at 2:45 o'clock.

YAARAB'S LITTLE STUNT MAY COST ATLANTA DEAR

Camel Runs Into Physician During Shriners' Parade, Injuring Hand and Shoulder.

Atlanta is facing a $2,000 damage suit and the blame has been placed squarely on the shoulders—rather the hump—of Yaarab, the pet camel of Griggs zoo at Grant park. Yaarab is the protégé of the park department and Dan Carey. Prior to this date Yaarab enjoyed the distinction of being the very best behaved camel that ever roamed the Sahara. But during Shriners week, Yaarab, provoked because he was allowed to mingle with the fazed hordes as a bona fide member of Yawkey temple, got on a stunt at Whitehall and Mitchell street and not only caused painful injuries to Dr. David Moury of Atlanta, but did something which no well behaved camel has ever been known to do.

To make a long story short, Yaarab leading the processions to and from the Terminal station, tried to set a pace for the victors to follow, and in so doing he ran pell mell into Dr. Moury, injured the doctor's right hand and bruised the doctor's shoulder.

The result is claim for $2,500 against the city. The claim was brought to the attention of the claims committee Wednesday afternoon.

The accident will be investigated by investigator Cochran and will be reported at council's next meeting.

Muse's Palm Beach Suits

Some Facts About Them

The Palm Beach Suit is an established popular feature of summer-like ball games and surf bathing, and differs as greatly.

The composite character of the genuine Palm Beach Suit is made up of many small things. It's the unseen that gives permanency to the visible.

Palm Beach Suits, strikingly similar in appearance, differ often in these essential points of goodness.

We present our Palm Beach Suits with the assurance that they are the best to be had. We ask you to buy them with that assurance.

Besides their substantial outward appearance, they are sewed with silk thread, edges are stayed with non-shrinkable linen tape and coats have genuine pearl buttons. The label in collar is washable, which is only another evidence of the quality of the suit.

TODAY is the LAST DAY

Your Order Must Be Mailed
Before 12 o'clock Tonight

NOW, while this newspaper is in your hand, you can cut out the order form printed below, and, by mailing it today, secure a copy of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica before the present low prices are advanced.

On the right is a table showing you side by side the prices at which the work, in various styles of binding, will be supplied to those who send their orders today and the increased prices—$29 to $50 more—which will have to be paid by those who send their orders tomorrow or at any later date.

Can you afford to waste money by allowing today's opportunity to pass?

You know that you will buy the Encyclopaedia Britannica sooner or later.

You have our guarantee that the increase in price will be maintained.

You know that the Encyclopaedia Britannica is the most useful work you could possibly purchase, and that its acquisition for your own use cannot fail to give you lasting pleasure, as well as to increase your personal efficiency.

You know that it is the most up-to-date book in the world.

You know that its 29 large quarto volumes, its 44,000,000 words of text, its 41,000 articles by 1,500 of the most distinguished men of our day, its 15,000 illustrations and 300 maps, make up the most comprehensive library that has ever been assembled. Printed on India paper, it is very compact, easy to house, easy to read—the ideal Encyclopaedia, in every respect.

You know by the many letters that have been published that subscribers are delighted with the book.

You know from the reviews that have been published that expert critics unanimously praise it.

You know, too, that if you lay your newspaper down at this moment with the intention of cutting out the order form later in the day, you may forget to cut it out at all.

The time is indeed so short that you will do well not only to mail the order form today, but also to send such a telegram as is indicated here in order that you may not be too late. A telegram alone, however, will not be accepted unless remittance follows by next mail.

The Last Advertisement

This is the last of a series of advertisements which have dealt with the most extraordinary offer in the history of bookselling; the offer on behalf of the Cambridge University Press of England of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica at prices far less than new editions of this celebrated work have heretofore been sold.

The purpose of this campaign of publicity has now been achieved. The new Britannica is widely known as the best book of universal reference in existence. Hereafter it will be supplied in exactly the same bindings, at the higher prices to go into effect after tomorrow, through booksellers and agents.

A success beyond all anticipation has been accomplished. On the one hand this wonderful new edition of the standard work of reference has found the public eager to welcome the appearance of so useful and so authoritative a summary and digest of all human knowledge. On the other hand, subscribers by whom the volumes are being used in the business office, the factory, the library, and the home have given the most enthusiastic expression to their appreciation of the book, and thousands of them have remarked upon the remarkably liberal terms upon which it may be obtained.

Nearly every reader of this advertisement has already given some thought to the question whether he will subscribe. Many of them have doubtless said: "That is a mighty fine book. I shall get it some day." But after today it will be too late to get it unless they wish to pay more; it will be too late for anyone to get it at the present low prices, unless he dispatches an order by post, or by telegram, before 12 o'clock tonight.
